Financial Information

This information is required of ALL charter schools. Provide the following measures of fiscal performance of the charter school in Appendix B (Total Expenditures and Administrative Expenditures Per Child):

1. Total Expenditures Per Child

To calculate 'Total Expenditures per Child' take total expenditures (from the unaudited 2015-16 Schedule of Functional Expenses) and divide by the year end FTE student enrollment. (Integers Only. No dollar signs or commas).

Note: The information on the Schedule of Functional Expenses on pages 41-43 of the Audit Guide can help schools locate the amounts to use in the two per pupil calculations: http://www.p12.nysed.gov/psc/AuditGuide.html

Line 1: Total Expenditures	6083437
Line 2: Year End FTE student enrollment	329
Line 3: Divide Line 1 by Line 2	18478

2. Administrative Expenditures per Child

To calculate 'Administrative Expenditures per Child' To calculate "Administrative Expenditures per Child" first add together the following:

- 1. Take the relevant portion from the 'personnel services cost' row and the 'management and general' column (from the unaudited 2015-16 Schedule of Functional Expenses)
- 2. Any contracted administrative/management fee paid to other organizations or corporations
- 3. Take the total from above and divide it by the year-end FTE enrollment. The relevant portion that must be included in this calculation is defined as follows:

Administrative Expenditures: Administration and management of the charter school includes the activities and personnel of the offices of the chief school officer, the finance or business offices, school operations personnel, data management and reporting, human resources, technology, etc. It also includes those administrative and management services provided by other organizations or corporations on behalf of the charter school for which the charter school pays a fee or other compensation. Do not include the FTE of personnel whose role is to directly support the instructional program.

Notes:

The information on the Schedule of Functional Expenses on pages 41-43 of the Audit Guide can help schools locate the amounts to use in the two per pupil calculations: http://www.p12.nysed.gov/psc/AuditGuide.html.

Employee benefit costs or expenditures should not be reported in the above calculations.

Line 1: Relevant Personnel Services Cost (Row)	641808
Line 2: Management and General Cost (Column)	196416
Line 3: Sum of Line 1 and Line 2	838225
Line 5: Divide Line 3 by the Year End FTE student enrollment	2546

Thank you.

Harlem Link Charter School (Harlem Link) utilizes a variety of strategies to attract and retain students with disabilities, English Language Learners (ELLs), and students who are eligible for free or reduced price lunch (economically disadvantaged).

The chart below displays our current recruitment and retention targets compared against actual student enrollment during the 2015-16 academic year.

	Recruitment Targets	2015-16 Recruitment	Retention Targets	2015-16 Retention
Economically Disadvantaged	50%	89%	93.7%	97.3%
English Language Learners	7.6%	8.6%	93.4%	61.5%
Students with Disabilities	16.5%	25.3%	94.4%	73.7%

Recruitment Strategies

Consistently outperforming the recruitment targets is a direct result of our school philosophy and goals for serving the most at-risk students and embodying what it means to be a community school. In addition to being active in District 3 and District 5 communities throughout each school year, the school also pursues students at-risk across Upper Manhattan. Each year, Harlem Link students reside in over ten NYC school districts with the majority of students residing in nearby District 5.

Strategies to reach these students includes working with the New York City Department of Education (DOE) to send a mailing to every family living in the various communities of Harlem. During 2015-16, these mailings were sent to the following zip codes: 10025, 10026, 10027, 10029, 10030, 10031, 10032, 10035, 10037 and 10039. The mailing was translated into English and Spanish to ensure the highest access to parents. These zip codes were chosen not only for their proximity to the school, but also for the large immigrant populations, high population of families experiencing economic disadvantages and high percentage of residents receiving services for disabilities.

In addition to this mailer, we also recruit heavily from our Pre-K classes as well as other Pre-K programs and daycare centers. The school also hosts tours and information sessions as well as attends recruitment fairs in the community and those held by the New York City Department of Education.

www.harlemlink.org

In 2015-16, recruitment efforts were made to fill the 84 open Kindergarten seats and 38 seats open in higher grades. Thirty-three of the Kindergarten openings were filled by students from Harlem Link's Pre-K and an additional 35 seats were filled by the siblings of current students. As a result, 2015-16 recruitment efforts were made to fill only 16 Kindergarten openings and an average of 5-10 seats in each of the higher grades. To ensure the most diverse student population for these limited vacancies, Harlem Link applied specific strategies to recruit ELLs, students with disabilities and students from economically disadvantaged families.

To target non-English speaking families, Harlem Link provides its student application at the school and on its website in Spanish and French. In addition, the school partners with the New York City Charter Schools Center to participate in its recruitment efforts aimed at English Language Learners. Harlem Link was one of 20 schools to pilot the Charter Center's 2011 initiative to create a common online application, for example, and has continued to participate in the program ever since.

In its information sessions, orientation sessions and contact with parents prior to enrollment, the school does not ask families whether their children have been identified as having disabilities. Doing so could discourage families who fear the stigma of Individualized Education Programs (IEPs) from enrolling. Instead, the school uses the DOE's "SESIS" network to identify whether new enrollees are eligible for special education services. Also, the school promotes the fact that special education students are treated with a high level of attention and are integrated with other students throughout the school, mainly through the use of Collaborative Team Teaching on each grade level.

Through word of mouth, Harlem Link has gained a reputation in the community as a haven for families who are living in poverty or whose children have a disability. One family member of a new enrollee with an Emotionally Disturbed diagnosis on his IEP said at the end of the school year, "I have never seen a group of adults work so hard together. His entire life has literally changed." The school will continue to provide staff time at information sessions in a variety of day care centers throughout Harlem. Two in particular tend to enroll a high number of students who are English Language Learners: the Dorothy Day Head Start at 583 Riverside Drive in West Harlem, and Addie Mae Collins Head Start at 110 East 129th Street in East Harlem. These are located in neighborhoods with a predominate number of immigrants from, respectively, the Dominican Republic and Puerto Rico. Additional organizations visited to target English Language Learners include the Boys and Girls Harbor Preschool and the East Harlem Bilingual Head Start Centers.

To target families of students with disabilities, Harlem Link conducted outreach to the following organizations: Annie G. Newsome Head Start, Child Minisink Center, Adam Clayton Powell Jr. Center, Abyssinian Development Corporation and the Union Settlement Associations Head Start, Day Care and Child Care Centers.

Harlem Link also regularly provides information sessions at numerous other early childhood centers including the Adair House, the Abyssinian Development Corporation's Day Care Center, and Harlem GEMS. At these locations the school encounters a high percentage of families living at or below the poverty line, as defined by the United States Department of Agriculture through its Free and Reduced Price Lunch program. To target even more families in this category, Harlem Link also conducted outreach to the following organizations:

St. Nicholas Center	Ft. George Head Start Center
Fort George Community Enrichment Center	Columbia University Head Start
ECDO Head Start/Early Childhood Development	Goddard Riverside Head Start
Daycare Center
The Center for Pre-School & Family Learning Head	Storey Center
Start
Early Life	Lenox Hill D.C. Head Start

Understanding the great number of at-risk families already in the community, Harlem Link has not set aside any seats in its admissions policies for specific subgroups.

Organizational Support

Harlem Link's Recruitment Team this past year has been composed of the Principal, one Assistant Principal, the Manager of Family Engagement, the Special Projects Manager, and the Director of Operations and Human Resources. The team meets annually to discuss and devise plans for recruitment and orientation. During these meetings, the team evaluates its recruitment efforts by measuring new student enrollment against the targets established by the Charter Schools Institute. The school does not believe that simply using the percentages of each subgroup represented among the current student body is a sufficiently sophisticated method to determine whether the school is meeting the intention of the law; Harlem Link implements federally guided safeguards against over-referral (through Response to Intervention or RTI, which has been in place at the school since 2007) and therefore is slow to refer students for special education services, and will look to support students with identified disabilities and English Language Learners so that their services terminate as soon as they are no longer necessary. The school does not have sufficient information to judge whether the surrounding school district takes a similar approach; schools in the local community may provide little support for these students, causing them to languish with an English Language Learner or disabled label far longer than is necessary.

The Director of Operations and Human Resources is responsible for overseeing recruitment efforts, working with the two members of the office staff on providing outreach and materials to families. He also maintains a recruitment manual and documents recruitment efforts.

Retention Strategies

Many of the student retention strategies the school utilizes reflects our vision of being a community school that respects the cultural and economic challenges faced by many families. For example, the school has always required students to wear uniforms, initially doing so in response to parent requests at the founding family input sessions. Parents expressed an interest in the sense of safety and unity conferred by uniforms, but also at the low cost. Since then, the school has always provided uniforms, including footwear, free of charge to families that express economic hardship.

General retention strategies include fostering the safe, warm and open environment that the school is known for in the community. Having an open door policy and frequent communication assures parents that their child is learning in a safe, high-achieving school community.

These efforts and the ones described below have resulted in Harlem Link making progress to meet its retention target for ELLs and students with disabilities, while exceeding the target for students experiencing economic disadvantages.

English Language Learners Program

After identifying ELL students, the school begins providing services and supplemental resources, and collects and analyzes available data within the first 2 weeks of the school year. Harlem Link provides support for ELLs in two distinct ways: in-class differentiation, and for eligible students a pull-out English as a Second Language (ESL) program using the English Now! program. Both of these initiatives are research-based and follow recommendations from the New York City Charter Schools English Language Learner Consortium, of which Harlem Link is a member.

All Identified ELLs receive instructional supports in the classroom. Teachers plan specific interventions as part of the school's revised lesson plan format, targeting the ELL students in their classes. These are research-based interventions that include: think time, talk time, nonlinguistic representation, tiered questioning and positive reinforcement with sentence corrections.

In addition, the following resources are available in the classroom to support ELL students: audiovisual equipment, books on tape, labels, manipulatives, picture Dictionaries and Thesauruses and an evergrowing vocabulary wall in each classroom utilizing pictures to depict word definitions.

Students scoring at a Beginning or Intermediate Performance level on the NYSESLAT or the LABr—and, depending on availability and space, all other students who are identified as ELL—receive pull-out ESL services a minimum of twice per week. The intervention teacher and classroom teacher will determine 2-3 academic goals for each student. This intervention may be provided in small groups with other ELLs in the K-1, 2-3, or 4-5 grade span or individually. In addition, the Manager of Coaching and Assessment oversees ELL student tutoring each morning, where students receive support in language acquisition as well as tutoring in their greatest areas of academic need.

The intervention instruction is based on the English Now! Secondary and Elementary curriculum for ELLs. This curriculum develops ELL students' reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills so that students can read with fluency, ask and answer questions, and orally retell a story. The program targets the four language modalities (speaking, listening, reading, and writing), has an elementary full-year program, an elementary intervention program, and a secondary program.

In addition, all ELLs and former ELLs may receive testing accommodations on all classroom tests created by the teacher or school and the ELA, Math, and Science state tests. The following test accommodations list was provided by the New York State Education Department in a 2008 testing memo:

- Time extension (all exams)
- Separate location (all exams)
- Third reading of listening section (ELA exams only)
- Bilingual glossaries (all exams except foreign language exams)
- Simultaneous use of English and Alternative Language Editions (not allowed for ELA or foreign language exams)
- Oral translations for lower-incident languages
- Writing responses in their native language (all exams except ELA exams)

Harlem Link measures the success of the ELL program using four criteria:

- Track record of exiting students from the program through the NSYESLAT
- Success on the New York State Testing Program assessments
- Success on the school's internal Level 4 (term-level) assessments: Developmental Reading Assessment, Fountas and Pinnell reading benchmark assessment, and mock state tests
- Assessments built into the English Now! program

Each year, the school evaluates the program throughout the year by examining subgroup data and making a determination, as part of the leadership team summer strategic planning, about any changes that are needed for the program. Harlem Link will continue to work with the aforementioned Consortium to determine additional evaluation criteria and methods.

The school also provides translation services when needed and has hired many Spanish speaking staff members to assist with frequent translations.

Students with Disabilities Program

Harlem Link has offered Collaborative Team Teaching (CTT) or Integrated Co-Teaching (ICT) on each grade level since 2007. The school also engages a number of providers in related services and makes space available within our building to provide mandated occupational therapy, speech therapy and physical therapy on site. Finally, the school provides two licensed social workers (who supervise teams of interns, making the school's counseling department a teaching center) to provide mandated counseling in addition to general support across the school.

The school employs three Academic Intervention Services (AIS) teachers as part of the RTI program. Through a Child Study Process, students enter and may exit the RTI program on a semester basis. Because of this process, the large number of providers who provide services to both general education and special education students, and the fact co-teaching in almost every classroom in the school (not simply the special education designated rooms), there appears to be little distinction on the student and family level between students receiving special education services and general education students. This integration is an intentional design feature.

The RTI process involves teams of educators joining together to review data and propose solutions to learning problems presented by students. Such teams include an AIS teacher, a social worker, a classroom teacher, an assistant principal and sometimes the Director of Curriculum and Professional Learning, who is the former principal of the school and now oversees the Student Support Team (of which RTI is one function). The process includes observing students, understanding their social and family history, examining their work and work habits, and understanding their place on the child development continuum. Solutions can include Tier II interventions (classroom-based), Tier III interventions (provided by a professional outside the classroom such as AIS or social worker) or Tier IV (referral to special education, which as mentioned above is a last resort).

An example of the child study process in action is the review of a kindergartener in the winter of 2016. The child was disrupting peer learning frequently and had become aggressive toward adults, leading to a suspension from school. The team met and combined counseling goals already in place with academic needs in the classroom to provide a new set of Tier I structures for this child to be successful. These interventions included such benign but powerful activities as nap time, play breaks and additional snacks. Having developmental needs met in this manner allowed the child to feel a degree of safety in the classroom that, given his past trauma, was otherwise unattainable. The child joined the classroom community to a greater degree as a result of these interventions, and was able to complete the school year successfully. Our prior experience in public schools in the community informs us that this child in another local setting would easily be labeled as "off track," and disturbed, and be destined to drop out of school or worse. Because of our child study process, the child is definitively on track for future academic success and college completion.

Program for the Economically Disadvantaged

With a high preponderance of families qualifying for free or reduced price lunch throughout the school's history, the school has taken an approach similarly to that for students with disabilities: design structures with these students' needs in mind, and allow everyone else to fit into those structures, rather than the reverse. The school operates on the theory that a high degree of poverty leads to a high instance of childhood trauma, and that this trauma (along with the material needs that accompany poverty noted above), preventing the development of executive functions and creating a sense of deficit, is a significant factor in the achievement gap.

An example of this approach is the partnership the school has developed with Bank Street College of Education's Safe and Sound Schools program. Through this program, the school is training teachers on understanding childhood trauma and providing therapeutic strategies in the classroom that allow children who have experienced trauma to adjust to the demands of a learning environment. The strategies are geared particularly toward students who are struggling to focus in light of abuse, neglect or other forms of trauma, but are appropriate or all students.

HARLEM LINK WELCOMES YOU!

Linking Family, School and Community

Q: What is a Charter School? A: It is a special kind of public school

There are three reasons why you should choose Harlem Link

- College Prep
- Safety
- Supportive Community

College prep is part of our mission

 Harlem Link Charter School, a Pre-K-5 public school, links academics, values and community to graduate articulate scholars who meet or exceed New York State Performance Standards and active citizens who learn and serve in their communities. Families, staff and community join together to provide a safe, supportive learning environment that empowers students to take an active role in their learning and demonstrate good character.

Responsive Classroom

- Harlem Link uses Responsive Classroom, which is a research-based approach to education that is linked to greater teacher effectiveness, higher student achievement, and improved school culture.
- Responsive Classroom approach consists of practical strategies for helping children build academic and social-emotional competencies.
- Harlem Link Staff Members use words and tone as a tool to promote children's active learning, sense of community, and selfdiscipline.
- Students have logical consequences, which include responding to misbehavior in a way that allows children to fix and learn from their mistakes while preserving their dignity.

Choose Harlem Linkwhere we link Family, School and Community

HARLEM LINK is a one-of-a-kind public elementary charter school with deep roots in Harlem's rich civic, cultural and intellectual legacy. We graduate articulate scholars who meet or exceed New York State Performance Standards and active citizens who learn and serve in their communities. For the past 11 years our own Common Core aligned unique curriculum has been co-taught by well supported teachers in a warm, nurturing and orderly environment where learning can flourish. Our extended school day, daily enrichment sessions, strong community partnerships and supportive alumni program ensure that students leave Harlem Link with an extended family and support network that begins before they start school and lasts a lifetime. At Harlem Link, we are family for life.

CHOOSING HARLEM LINK MEANS...

- The convenience of grades Pre-K to 5th grade (one of only 4 charter schools in Harlem providing pre-k)
- A small school environment with two teachers in all lower grade classrooms
- After-school programming for children in grades K-5
- Full-service middle school placement program (our graduates attend some of the city's best middle schools)
- Safe and supportive environment
- College prep (we have an active alumni program with college application assistance)

WHY FAMILIES CHOOSE HARLEM LINK...

- Small close knit community of families
- · Teachers know children well because of small classroom communities
- Harlem Link staff care about families
- Harlem Link stays connected to students long after they graduate

SCHOOL QUICK FACTS:

We know there are many important factors to consider when choosing a school for your child. Over the past 11 years we have worked hard to meet the needs of our families like providing a longer school day and after-school programming to name a few. We currently enroll 340 students:

School day: 8:30-3:30 p.m.

3:30-6:00p.m.

Curriculum:

Common Core aligned. Our school also has a music curriculum where children learn the basics of wind and percussion instruments...

Academic Intervention Services (AIS)

Related Services

(Occupational therapy, speech and language

Transportation:

Bussing is provided for students in some neighborhoods (northern Manhattan, some parts of Central and West Harlem)
